

BK Jayanti

For over 40 years, BK Jayanti has been an emissary for peace. She is the European and Middle East Director for the Brahma Kumaris World Spiritual University in London, and its NGO representative to the United Nations, Geneva. Her travels as a keenly sought after speaker and broadcaster have taken her to well over 100 countries. She speaks with depth and lightness, conveying her messages with a unique blend of Eastern wisdom and Western pragmatism.

Some of BK Jayanti's prominent lecture themes have included health, racial harmony, women's needs, sustainability, peace, and international relations.

She is a leader in the promotion of interfaith friendship and dialogue to bring about the peaceful resolution of world problems, and a member of the executive committee of the World Congress of Faiths. As an environmentalist, she has spoken at numerous UN biodiversity and climate change conferences. Through her books and recordings, she has helped guide many along the path of meditation and self-discovery.

In her lectures and meditation commentaries, BK Jayanti will gently guide you to a place deep inside where you can experience your own inner power, peace and harmony.

Sister B.K.Jayanti:

Director of the London Branch of the Brahma Kumaris World Spiritual University and its NGO Representative to the United Nations, Geneva.:

For over 35 years, Sister Jayanti has travelled widely as a Speaker, broadcaster and emissary for peace. She has co-ordinated several projects in connection with Women, Development, the Environment and Youth.

She is an Advisor to the Council for a Parliament of the World's Religions and Advisory Committee Member of the international Interfaith Centre.

Sister Jayanti is European Co-ordinator for the Brahma Kumaris World Spiritual University and assists in co-ordinating the University's activities in 130 countries. Her work involves spiritual counseling, teaching and translating. Sister Jayanti has a unique ability to impart deep spiritual truths with the utmost clarity. Her prominent lecture themes have included health, education, racial harmony, women's needs, religions of the world, peace and international relations, all of which have generated a lot of media interest.

Sister Jayanti sees the erosion of spiritual values at the heart of the underlying cause of the crisis that the world is facing today. She has worked tirelessly to promote positive, human, spiritual values to all sectors of society. In 1980, she was appointed the University's main representative to the UN in Geneva. This has led her to participate in many UN Conferences.

Her travels as a keenly sought after speaker and broadcaster have taken her into over 80 countries. She helped establish the work of the university in London, Hong Kong, the Caribbean, Japan and several European countries and continues to help in the sustenance of Centres all over the world.
